

WORKSHOP MENU
Instructor: Alice Sachs Zimet
(as of Jan 2024)

Arts + Business Partners (ABP) offers virtual and in-person workshops about the fine art photography market for collectors at all levels (from nascent to the more seasoned) or for the curious photographer looking to find a gallery. Below is a 'menu' of workshop options – each its own 'masterclass' – from a collecting 'bootcamp,' to branding workshops for photographers looking to break into the marketplace to a "Peek Inside the Collector's Mind."

Taught by an educator, collector and advisor active in the field for nearly 40 years, Alice Sachs Zimet has amassed a collection of roughly 350 photographs by 141 different photographers from 20th Century masters to the present. Her expertise, energy and passion have engaged over 1,000 students from across Europe, Asia and the United States. Workshops have been offered by auction houses (Christie's, Swann Auction Galleries), museums (International Center of Photography, Griffin Museum of Photography) to schools and art centers (Maine Media Workshops + College, Los Angeles Center of Photography, Colorado Photographic Arts Center), the Harvard Business School Alumni programs, and the American Society of Photographers, among others. (See Zimet's bio on page 5.)

Workshop Menu offerings can be tailored to each host institution in terms of format, session length, time of day and title. Workshops can also be offered virtually or in-person. For in-person workshops, we also go behind-the-scenes to offer private visits to galleries, auction previews and art fairs. Many sessions are 'crossover', attracting both photographers and collectors.

MINI WORKSHOPS (2 hours)

Title Options Inside the Collector's Mind
Collecting Bootcamp: An Inside Perspective

Join us as we go inside the collector's mind! Serving as the Chair of the Collections Committee at both the Harvard Art Museums and the International Center of Photography, Alice Sachs Zimet began collecting photography in 1985 and has amassed a collection of over 350 museum-quality images. How did that journey begin, what was the impetus to buy her first piece, and what goes into the collector's decision-making process? Collectors will gain insight into the world of fine art photography and photographers will better understand the collector perspective, receiving useful tips to advance their own personal practice.

Title Options How to Get Your Photographs in a Gallery
Tips to Access the Commercial Market

This seminar offers photographers an inside perspective from a pioneer collector on how to access the fine art marketplace. Learn the questions collectors ask and how this might impact your practice. We'll discuss how to find the 'right' gallery, proper etiquette when approaching them (including what not to do), and the marketing materials needed in order to get your name out into the marketplace.

MULTI SESSION WORKSHOPS FOR PHOTOGRAPHERS + COLLECTORS

Title Options A Peek Behind the Curtain: What Collectors Look For
A Peek Behind the Curtain: How to Find a Gallery
Timing 5 sessions | 2 hours each | weekly (10 hours)

Overwhelmed by the photography market? Whether a beginner or more experienced collector or a photographer interested in learning about the commercial marketplace, join this 5-part virtual series. Get a rare insider peek on the basics of collecting photography taught by a pioneer collector (who also chairs two museum collections committees) and learn how this might impact your photography practice. Each week, we focus on a different subject: the building of a private collection, the questions collectors ask, where collectors shop / the marketplace as well as a session to teach photographers best practices to get work out into the market. The final class includes visits with two prominent photography dealers who share their views on the market today. No matter a photographer or collector, you'll leave the class more knowledgeable and more confident about the photography marketplace.

Session 1: Building a Collection. Session 2: Thoughts to Consider Before Spending a Penny. Session 3: The Marketplace: Galleries, Art Fairs, Auctions, and Online Market. Session 4: How to Find a Gallery and Market Yourself. Session 5: Virtual gallery visits with two prominent dealers. Abundant handouts provided.

Title Options How to Buy at Auction: Bidding, Tips and a Visit with the Specialist
Timing 3 sessions | 90 minutes each | one week apart, prior to a specific sale
(4.5 hours)

Geared towards collectors at any level, this course provides the confidence to know when to raise your paddle and the due diligence needed before you bid. The series takes a deep dive into the auction world, with tips offered by an instructor where over 30% of her collection was purchased at auction. Topics include how to bid, auction language, how to read a catalogue, condition issues, post-auction sales opportunities and benefit auctions. The last session invites the Photography Specialist to lead a conversation about the auction market today, highlighting lots from an upcoming sale. Offering a unique opportunity, students can review the auction offerings in advance of the sale and then ask questions about specific lots. The series often begins four weeks before a sale, allowing one week for students to attend the preview in person or communicate with the Specialist about specific lots prior to the auction. Working with both Christie's and Swann Auction Galleries, we have seen tangible results where students felt more confident to bid, with many successfully winning specific lots. The workshop can be extended to include additional sessions as well as an on-site auction preview.

Title Options A Peek Behind the Photograph: Conversations with the Dealers

www.artsandbusinesspartners.com | alice@artsandbusinesspartners.com | 1.212.427.6700

Timing 5 sessions | 90 minutes each | weekly (7.5 hours)

Geared toward inquisitive photographers and curious collectors, this class goes behind-the-scenes to have personal conversations with prominent photography dealers across the US representing a variety of work, from the 'classics' to contemporary image makers. During the initial class, students learn key questions collectors might ask a dealer along with the due diligence needed to buy a photograph -- from signature indications, limited vs. open editions, to negative vs print date. In each of the following four classes, dealers discuss the gallery's "brand," how they discover new talent, the process for setting prices, and the challenges of running a gallery today.

Title Options Conversations Across the Photography Marketplace

Timing 5 sessions | 90 minutes each | weekly (7.5 hours)

Geared towards the beginner to more seasoned collector or photographers at any level, 'Conversations in Photography' provides a behind-the-scenes look at the different aspects that make up the fine art photography marketplace. Intimate conversations with leaders across the field have provided an inside peek into the world of a photography dealer, photography writer/critic, museum curator, museum director, collector, nonprofit executive, auction specialist, and photo book collector/publisher. Other professionals who might participate include an appraiser, insurance agent, or a photographer working with a gallery and what that gallery offers an artist.

FOR PHOTOGRAPHERS

Title Options Making Work ... Now What? How to Break into the Art World
Tips to Access the Commercial Marketplace and Find A Gallery
Finding a Gallery for Your Work

Timing 2 sessions | 6 hours each | one week apart (12 hours)
8 sessions | 2 hours each | weekly or bi-weekly (16 hours)

This class is designed for photographers with a body of work ready to be shown and covers how to effectively communicate to make it more marketable. We first go “inside the collector’s mind” to better understand where collectors shop, the questions they ask (regarding pricing, editions, condition) and how those considerations impact working photographers today. We’ll then offer advice on how to find a gallery, what not to do, and how to promote yourself. We’ll talk about the importance of online platforms, benefit auctions, and offer abundant tips on how to best present at a portfolio review. Finally, because how you talk about your work is almost as important as making it, we’ll teach you how to more effectively write and speak about your photographs. We’ll drill down to each photographer’s own branding materials analyzing both their written and verbal skills, to help get images seen as well as improve story-telling techniques. Students are expected to present their business cards, websites, and a 10-minute ‘elevator speech’ while showing work for peer critique.

Session 1: Inside the Collector's Mind. Session 2: Questions Collectors Ask Before Buying. Session 3: Finding the 'Right' Gallery and the Questions You Should Ask Them. Session 4: Strategic Ways to Access the Market. Session 5: You Are Your Own Billboard: How to Market, Brand and Talk About Yourself. Sessions 6-8: Peer critique: Business Card and 'Elevator Speech' Presentations.
